Cong. Purcell Favors Four-Year Terms

BY BENNY TURNER

Cong. Graham Purcell, while touring the West Texas State campus Thursday said that he was in favor of extending congressmen's terms to four years.

"I know that there have been many complaints over the years about congressmen spending all of their time politicing and not spending enough time in session," Purcell said.

"If the term were extended we could spend more time working. It is a funny situation. Some people will argue that if the congressmen are given four year terms that we would never show our face in our home state. But with a two year term many people complain that we don't spend enough time in session."

Purcell, who was escorted by Jim Madewell of Canyon, spent about three hours touring the WTSU campus meeting students and professors.

Thursday night he held a two hour informal meeting with a group of West Texas State students.

"It is kind of fun being in congress with your opponent," Purcell said, "Although I think it could get a little tense in latter months. It is probably harder on our wives than it is Bob (Price) or I. We have been friends for several years and I feel like we will continue to be."

Purcell listened to the students problems with a low percentage of students registering to vote. He said, "I am sorry to hear that a sizeable percentage of the youth are not registering. But then I am sorry to know that a large percentage of people my age do not register or ever have registered."

The congressman talked at length with the male students about Vietnam and the draft. He said that he felt that the young people who have left the country to avoid the draft should not be allowed back into the country without facing the penalties prescribed for draft evaders. Diel said that his firm is now doing a paving job for the City of Amarillo and is having to buy some of the asphalt being used. The Canyon plant would supply this need.

Briscoe Fields Questions Here

BY ELAINE PEEPLES

Dolph Briscoe said state distribution of funds to local schools is a possibility under a new federal court ruling.

Briscoe said in Canyon Thursday that he did not believe that the ad valorum tax had been completely ruled unconstitutional but that some changes would have to be made to comply with the court ruling.

Briscoe said, "They must attach some strings. It will not be a block grant."

Briscoe was referring to a recent court decision which he interpreted as saying there must be equal tax resources behind each student in the state.

Eagle Band Picked

Good Will Ambassadors

Canyon High School Eagle Band has been commissioned as Ambassadors of Good Will under the laws of the state of Texas by proclamation of Gov. Preston Smith.

Smith sent the official document to Canyon this week and it was presented to band director J. W. King.

The document bears the seal of the state and Gov. Smith's signature, and was obtained through efforts of Mrs. Carol Crain of Canyon.

Eagle Band is attempting to raise $50,000 to attend an international band festival in Vienna, Austria in July of this year. The good will commission will be carried with the band so they can serve as official representatives from Canyon, Randall County and the state of Texas.

The document reads: The State Of Texas to all to whom these presents shall come, Greetings: Know ye, that Canyon High School Eagle Band is hereby commissioned Ambassadors of Good Will under the laws of the State of Texas with all rights, privileges, and emoluments appertaining to said office. In testimony whereof, I have signed my name and caused the Seal of State to be affixed at the City of Austin, this, the 10th day of January A. D., 1972.

Town Hall Meeting Slated Thursday

BY MARGO WILLIAMS

Some 200 invitations have been sent out to civic and community leaders in Canyon to attend a Town Hall meeting Thursday night.

The open session will be in conjunction with the regular meeting of the city commissioners and will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the community center.

The idea originated several months ago when commissioners expressed a desire to get feedback from the residents of Canyon on what they want for the future of the city.

They agreed to set the town hall meeting in an effort to set city-wide goals.

The agenda will include a welcoming address by Mayor Manly Bryan followed by a presentation of the city financial condition given by city manager George Loudder and city auditor Gene Glazner.

General services provided by the city will be outlined by Loudder and city clerk Glen Metcalf, followed by a public safety report from police chief Al Stewart and deputy fire chief Joe Rice.

Street and sanitation department head Archie Davis will present a report and Robert Rogers will discuss the water and sewer department which he heads. City engineer Bill McMorries will also be on hand to discuss each pause of the city.

A question and answer period will follow, and it is during this time that city officials hope to hear suggestions, ideas and possible plans for Canyon's growth.

Presidents and members of all city civic clubs, women's organizations, county officials, and former city officials have been invited, and all interested residents have been urged to attend.

"Anyone interested in the future growth and development of Canyon is invited," said Bryan.

"We would like to get citi-

Father Swears Son Into Army

The boy stood with his hands clasped behind his back, then was called to attention and raised his right hand. Thirty seconds later he was a private in the United States Army.

It's a typical scene, repeated dozens of times each day, but to the Charles Grona family it was a little different.

Roy Grona, 19-year-old son of Sgt. Major and Mrs. Charles Grona, was inducted into the army Thursday morning by his father while mother Anna looked on.

Roy is a 1971 graduate of Canyon High School and decided recently to "get away", so he joined the armed forces.

He left Thursday afternoon for Fort Ord, Calif., where he will be for four months, then he hopes to go to airborne school at either Ft. Benning, Ga., or Ft. Campbell, Ky. Following airborne will be ranger school...all of it depends on Roy and his ability.

But the boy is used to the military way of life. His father is now in his 27th year in the Army and has served in Germany, Korea, Japan, and Viet Nam, Corpus Christi, Alice, and Amarillo.

He met Mrs. Grona in Germany and they married in 1948. They returned to the states in 1951 and spent three years in Alice. Then to Korea and Japan for three years and back to Texas for an assignment in Corpus Christi. The family moved to Amarillo in 1965 and remained here while the father served a year in Viet Nam.

Roy is the middle of three sons, Charles, Jr. is married and lives in Arlington, and Fred is a Canyon High School football star.

"I'm looking forward to it," Roy said as he shook hands with his father im-

WTSU Students Ask 'Why Register ?'

"Why should I vote?"

"How much is it going to cost me?"

These are some of the questions asked by a large number of the students at West Texas State University when contacted to register to vote, according to Benny Turner, president of the Young Democrats.

The Young Democrats set up a voter registration booth for the students in the administration building Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"We have given the students an opportunity to register to vote with no inconvenience and we still can't get the students to register," Turner said.

"All they have to do is sign their name and they shy away," Turner said. "They gave us the vote and now we can't get them to register."

Turner said that no figures on the number of students who registered were available but that the number would not be high.

The student association at WT originally were supposed to organize a voter registration drive. Turner said that members of the student association met with the county clerk, county tax assessor-collector, and state representatives Bryan Poff and Ben Bynum in late November to work out details on the drive, Turner said.

Turner noted the student association failed to act further.

"The drive would have been more effective had the student association plans been carried out," Turner emphasized.

"When the Young Democrats began planning their drive, I found that there were no student deputies available as I had been led to believe," he said.

Turner said he would like to thank the administrators at WT, especially Virgil Henson and Dr. Donald Cates for their help in organizing the voter registration drive.

"These people encouraged us to open the booth," he praised.

Turner said the Young Democrats plan to hold another drive following registration. "I hope the students are more interested in registering to vote then," he said.

Jackson Says Being Black Paid Off

Capt. Stonewall Jackson of the Potter County Sheriff's Department says that being a black law enforcement officer helped in dealing with 10 Black Muslims in early December in Canyon.

Jackson said the 10 members of the Nation of Islam were on the West Texas State University campus on the evening of Dec. 6, and he drove to Canyon to talk with them.

"They couldn't believe that there was a black man as a police officer in this section of the country," Jackson said Friday.

The appearance of the group in Canyon was brought to light Wednesday after Jackson apparently recognized the name of one of the Negroes who was killed during street rioting in Baton Rouge, as being the spokesman of the blacks who were at WT in early December.

Jackson said he was asked to come to the WT campus, but the report turned in by WT security guard Larry Lamberson meandering with margo

It is imperative that the residents of Canyon turn out en masse for the Town Hall meeting Thursday night in the community center.

So often the people of a community quietly sit by and let the growth of a town or city take any course that appears to be natural, instead of taking an active part in shaping the future of that community.

This is Canyon's opportunity to become a vital city, one closely directed by persons who have a sincere interest in the future course to be taken.

The city commissioners are crying out for direction and comment.

They are seeking answers to questions that must be answered in the next few years — and for Canyon's sake, they must be answered with thought, judgement and common sense.

Such things as future water supply, new city hall facilities, annexation plans, and city parks are of enormous concern to the people of this city and the county.

No longer can we say "Let George Do It" because it is becoming too big for just George. It is only going to be effectively handled directed and guided by the people.

And if you don't take a part in Canyon's future, who will?

We constantly moan about the "bigness" of government and decision-making leaving the individual's hands. But have you thought how much of this we bring on ourselves, just because we fail to make decisions on a personal level?

The city-wide meeting Thursday is an example of this. Most people will decide not to attend, and where does that leave the city officials? This puts the decision making problem right back on their backs, but the sad thing, it also leaves them with no direction to follow. We elect officials to help make some of the decisions for us, but they can not be effective unless we confide in them as to our needs, our desires and our thoughts.

Without goals a city can quickly become bedlam, and without direction from the citizens, there can be no goals. A panel of five men setting directives, aims and goals for a city of 8,000 is not only foolish but can be frightening. They are our representatives, and it is the individual's responsibility to make certain that the representative understands what is expected.

Too often the official only hears a disgruntled groan after a decision has been made and not before.

City commissioners, although very adept in areas of city government, have difficulty reading minds.

Harrises "Major In Grandkids"

"You give yourself to whatever you really like," said Mrs. Battle Harris, whose own life has been filled with her family, her church, teaching, and youth work.

"Now, we're majoring in grandkids."

The Harrises have designed their home three miles east of Canyon so that it can expand to hold lots of visitors — especially grandchildren. The ground floor is their own living area. Upstairs, there is a room for Kathryn, their only daughter, who is a nurse at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. The rest of the upstairs is storage and one double bedroom with a movable partition to divide it into two.

The three grandchildren are provided by the couple's two sons and their wives. Roy Harris is assistant principal at Borger High School. Ronnie, who lives in Lubbock, is in partnership with his father who represents Southern Engraving of Houston in this part of Texas. The two work for the company's School Services division, selling class rings, diplomas, caps and gowns, band uniforms and other such items.

Mrs. Harris does her husband's office work in their home — answers the telephone, does the filing and correspondence, keeps the books, and does all the other detail work necessary in such a business.

After she had her family, she went back to school and got her degree. "We were all in the same building," she recalled. The children attended the demonstration school at West Texas State University while she was taking education courses under the same roof.

She taught at Rex Reeves for four years and is proud to display a trophy given her by one set of fifth-graders. It is inscribed "World's Greatest Teacher — 1966-67."

"Battle and I have a motto," she said: "Teach your children to play some as you teach them to work." Too many families, she feels, do their playing separately, rather than as a unit.

The couple worked with Boy Scouts for many years, and Harris still does. As for Mrs. Harris, "I've drunk half the water in Buffalo Lake learning to water ski with them and I've packed packs and everything."

The pair are also active at First Baptist Church where Harris is a member of the board of deacons and she works with married young people. The couples she works with make her hopeful for the future of our country, she said.

"If I had a hobby, it would be travel." She plans the frequent trips she and her husband take. The have visited Europe, Alaska, Canada, the Great Smoky Mountains, and Washington, D.C., among other places. Their travel trailer is parked at Lake Meredith now for use when they fish or water ski, "But it's ready to hook on whenever we get ready. Whenever we get money in our vacation fund, we take off."

The Harrises went to Europe when a son and his wife were there, but they major on the United States. "There are so many beautiful places here."

On the subject of hobbies, she added, "And I am really and seriously going to take up sewing."

In the kitchen, "I like recipes you can get with," she said energetically. One favorite is a Mexican Beef Casserole. A group of friends from Groom "come every year to eat my Mexican Beef supper."

She also uses a pepper steak dish, and likes both these because they can be made ahead of time, or frozen till they're needed.

For fruit salads, she likes to make a honey-lime dressing to be poured over a mixture of pineapple, fresh orange chunks, and grapes.

For dessert, she frequently makes Pineapple-Cheese Chiffon Pie. It's tangy after a meal of heavy food, said the cook, and is "not as hard to make as it sounds."

Recipes from Mrs. Harris follow:

MEXICAN BEEF CASSEROLE

Brown:
2 pounds of hamburger meat
1 medium onion
Add:
1 can enchilada sauce
Heat:

Line a baking dish with broken or whole tortillas, then layer meat mixture, soup mixture, and grated cheese. Repeat, ending with cheese on top. Cover and keep in refrigerator overnight. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees. Serves 10. The dish will take somewhat longer to cook if it is not warmed to room temperature before it is put in the oven. It may be frozen for later use.

PEPPER STEAK

3. Beat in gelatin mixture gradually at low speed until well mixed. Chill until mixture is thick, but not firm.

4. Chill:

Capers Plans New Lessons

Canyon Capers square dancers will have a get-acquainted night at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 24 in the Junior Livestock Building. Lessons are to begin the following week.

The Monday night dances are always open to visitors, according to Mrs. Phyllis Podzemny, club reporter.

The dancers visited Teen Twirlers Jan.6 to retrieve their banner.

On Monday night, they added Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Crossland to their group.

Mrs. Battle Harris shows off the trophy given her by a class of fifth-graders. The inscription reads "World's Greatest Teacher."

TIME OUT

BY BENNY TURNER

If you play the links much around this area you nearly have to be familiar with a little blond-headed fella; and if you have happened to play with this little fella odds are you took a sound licking.

Last summer Bryan Garner, a 13-year-old seventh grader, entered 13 tournaments..which is quite a few regardless of who you are. What's amazing is that he won 10 of those tourneys.

One day last week I had a 4 p.m. appointment with Bryan to take some pictures of him. After the picture taking session was over we returned to his home to put up his golf clubs and inform his mother that we were going to get a coke.

But lo and behold a pro-golf tournament was on television and the interview-coke was temporarily postponed until we had watched the conclusion of the tourney.

Little Bryan is just like every other seventh grader in his interests, but most 13-year-olds do not shoot a round of golf within six or seven strokes of par.

He took a sip of the Dr. Pepper that was almost as big as he is and said, "Playing in front of a gallery does not bother me. Usually I play better in front of a gallery...if they are for me.

"It is quite a bit different playing in a tournament than playing a round just for the fun of it, at least it is for me. I don't usually shoot as well when I am out practicing as when I am in a tourney."

Bryan won those ten tourneys in the West Texas Junior Golf tour. The tournaments are held all over West Texas during the summer months.

When he talked of the tourneys he has won or about himself he spoke with the innocence of a 13-year-old boy. His success on the tour has not colored his personality one iota. In fact his victories on the links seem to have made him a little self-concious.

After Bryan had finished the Dr. Pepper in record time he said, "You know I entered a tournament here in Canyon and was leading by several strokes, but I took a nine on the last hole and finished second. Whew...that was bad."

Last summer Bryan competed in the 12-13-year-old bracket. But, he was 12 and still won 10 of the 13 tournaments he entered. Bryan looked little more than a pygmy among the older fellows.

Next summer Bryan will still probably look small compared to the competition, but you can bet that they will remember who Bryan Garner is.

Kuhlmans To Display La Amena Vista Today

With a name inspired by its view and design and construction adapted to the West Texas climate, La Amena Vista Apartments will be on display from 1 to 8 p.m. Sunday, according to owner Alvin Kuhlman.

The 18 apartments, at 2608 Second Ave., are designed with one, two, or three bedrooms and the interiors were planned by Mrs. Lisa Kuhlman.

Kuhlman said that he noticed the lovely view of large trees and beautiful yards to the south of the structure several years ago while repairing an antenna at the address. The prospect, visible from wind-protected private balconies at the new apartments, made him decide on the name La Amena Vista, "the pleasant view."

The design features double windows and protected stairways on the north side of the building, no windows on the west, and large southern windows combined with protected balconies to take advantage of the winter sun and provide shade during the summer.

Each bedroom is planned to accommodate a queen-size bed and a twin bed, if the tenant desires, said Kuhlman. Interior design centers on a continental theme with furniture in the Spanish tradition. Divided baths feature marble lavatories and unitized bathtubs.

The total-electric kitchens include disposals, dishwashers and custom design by Brandon.

Electric air conditioning and heating are individually controlled.

The new apartments, built of reinforced masonry construction with prestress concrete flooring, are half a block from the campus of West Texas State University and two blocks from Fourth Avenue, which provides direct access to Canyon's downtown area, Kuhlman pointed out.

Funeral services for R. V. Thompson, 51, were held in Springdale, Ark., Thursday afternoon.

He was the father of Kenneth Thompson, manager of the C.R. Anthony Store in Canyon.

Thompson died Monday night.

In addition to Kenneth Thompson, the deceased is survived by his wife, two other sons, a daughter, and two brothers.

The Canyon resident and his family left for Springdale on Tuesday. They expected to be home on Monday.

come up with a plan until we get a final court decision," Briscoe said. "We must study every alternative we have," he said.

Briscoe said that there was a danger in the decision of federal control of education and he said the decision could mean requiring equality of education between states.

Briscoe said the decision could be extended to include equality of education between states and could also include the financing of city and county governments.

"We will have to work out a plan that will meet the requirements of the court and also retain local control," Briscoe said.

"We should have more local discretion on how to use funds," Briscoe said. Each district has special problems and I believe the local school board should have more discretion than they have today," he said.

Briscoe said in a short speech at a coffee held at the First National Bank that if elected he planned to maintain a "hot line" between the governor's office and the county commission and city commission of this area.

"I am convinced we can win this campaign and win it in a big way," Briscoe stated.

In answer to a question on the impact of the Sharpstown stock scandal on the campaign Briscoe said, "I intend to run a positive campaign. My campaign for governor will not be against anybody else or to try to tear down anyone else. It is unnecessary to dwell on known facts as to what has happened," he said.

Briscoe said that he hoped to restore confidence, honesty and integrity to top state leadership.

Briscoe said that he recognized the need for a supplemental water supply and that one of his immediate projects would be the implementation of a vital water plan.

Briscoe said that he thought a large percentage of the 18 to 20 year olds will vote this year but that he didn't expect them to vote in block.

"I find in visiting the campuses that they are very interested and hope they will exercise their civic responsibility," he said.

Briscoe said that his financial support for his campaign was broad based. "My campaign is being carried to all the people and I will not appeal to any special group," he said.

Briscoe toured the Randall County courthouse Thursday morning meeting and talking with county employees before attending the coffee.

Briscoe was accompanied to Canyon by Wayne Dammier and J.R. Taylor, both of Amarillo.

Jackson. . .

said Jackson requested the 10 men be held until he could get to the campus.

Bobby Hudson, head of the security department at WT, said he was out of town at a conference in Dallas during the incident, but the report turned in by Lamberson showed that the officer saw five Negro males give some pictures to three white male students in return for some money.

Lamberson said in the report he followed the Negro men into one of the mens' dorms and questioned them. They reportedly told the officers they were soliciting funds for a $20 million complex in Chicago to help educate the Negro race. Jackson said when he interviewed the black men they told him they were collecting money to build a Black Muslim temple in Chicago.

Another five Negro men were reported as trying to collect money at two of the female dorms, and all 10 were taken to Randall County courthouse for questioning.

Lamberson described the group members in his report as clean-cut, neat, very polite, well-dressed and very cooperative, and they all said they were members of Nation of Islam.

Jackson said he brought a minister with him because "he knew about the Black Muslims in Chicago." The Potter County sheriff's deputy said the minister is Howard Romaine of the Church of the Living God in Amarillo and moved here about two years ago from Chicago.

"I didn't know what I might be getting into," Jackson said in recalling the incident," so I brought along a minister that was familiar with the Black Muslims. Some of them recognized him."

Jackson described the Black Muslims as a "militant organization" and he said he advised the group to leave the campus, Canyon and Amarillo.

Jackson said the spokesman for the group was identified as Thomas Davis, who was one of the four persons killed in rioting earlier this week in Baton Rouge.

Others in the group were James West of Ada, Okla., Walter Rodgery Rosemarr of Los Angeles, Calif., Willie J. Petty of Chicago, Ill., Sylvester R. Winston of Buffalo, N.Y., Warren Hall of Philadelphia, Penn., Reggie Williams, of Ada., Okla., Robert J. Barker of Los Angeles, Calif., and Raymond Roseman of Baton Rouge.

Jackson said he talked with three other Negroes in Amarillo earlier in connection with the same incident and identified those men as Lionett Smith, Robert Lee Adams, Jr., and Warren J. Johnson.

In the light gilt division Gary Reynolds was first place winner and Danny Wilhelm placed second; Pat Trammell, third; Mike Kelly, fourth; Brent Leith, fifth, and David Christy, sixth.

Heavy gilt top winners were Jody Donnell followed by Raymond Hunter, Allen Donnell, third; James Lamb, fourth and Pat Trammell, fifth.

zen feedback as to what they want and what the city might need in the future," Loudder said last month.

City commissioners would like to get ideas about 5,10 and 20 years in the future.

"Citizen participation is mandatory and helpful for the growth of Canyon," Bryan said. "And at the meeting we want recommendations on how to set up a committee to set specific goals. We would also like to have ideas to do what this Goals for Canyon Committee should investigate.

"We want to set up a master plan for Canyon," one commissioner explained.

Ideally, the committee would advise the city on priorities, and needs and goals.

"Hopefully, this will tell us where we are going, what we should do about parks, recreation, developing new water supplies, a new library, new city complex, annexation, all problems we may face in the future," another commissioner urged.

ter regardless of the reason. I cannot say that I do not respect these people in one respect. They went to a great extreme to avoid what they believe is wrong and they did it in a peaceful manner, like Martin Luther King.

"But, they did leave and I don't believe we could justify it in any way if we let them back in the country. Most people who have committed murder are sorry they did it and would swear that they would never do it again, but we can not waive their sentence either."

Purcell said that he felt the people of Bangla Desh ought to have their chance at self-government. "They certainly cannot be any worse off than they were when they were under the Pakistan government. A group of people equivilant approximately to the population of Wisconsin had flooded in India from East Pakistan and India just could not feed them. So I say let them have their chance."

Purcell was to have gone to Swisher County to tour the Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb Projects Saturday He will return to Washington sometime today.

C. J. Kirkman of Canyon, left, gives a donation to the color TV fund which is being given away by the Canyon High School Eagle Band on Feb. 14. Donations are $1 and may be given to any band member. Receiving the money is band director J. W. King, right.

Texas Ambassadors of Good Will

Leslie Baird Collects $250

Leslie Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Baird, is a blond-haired blueish-grey eyed sophomore in high school, and she is hopeful about a band trip this summer to Vienna, Austria.

Leslie plays the clarinet for the Canyon Eagle Band and says her place fluctuates between second and third chair. She is a member of the All-Region Band and will compete later this month for All-State Band.

She is eager about the possible trip to the international music festival in July, but she realizes that alot of work must be done before $50,000 is collected.

She has collected $250 for her own band account, and still needs another $225 before she's finsished.

"I've sold cookbooks, sold crafts, babysat, and helped in group projects where the whole band was involved," she remembers.

In fact, Leslie thinks it is more fun to work together in earning money than by yourself.

"Working with the group is more fun, cause everyone is together and that's fun," she explains.

Among the things she has made to sell as part of the crafts project are crocheted rings and necklaces, and she says her mother knits and she has contributed many items to the band for slae.

"Right now things are slow, and we are going to have to really work to get more money, but if we try we can do it," she affirmed.

No More Papers !

Canyon High School band parents are not collecting newspapers any longer, according to Mrs. Gary Garner, chairman.

Mrs. Garner said transportation of the papers to Amarillo was too expensive. But she said many of the band students may collect the papers individually, and persons interested in giving papers should call the individual members.

EDITORIAL

The Editor's Opinion

"Somehow we'll do it!"

Every so often we hear of some act of bravery or courage which seems worth applauding. Usually they relate to physical courage on the part of an unlikely individual — a little old lady in tennis shoes who halts a fleeing gunman or the like.

This has elements of that kind of picture of courage except that it involves a whole town, the town of Canyon, Texas, population 8,000, location one county south of Amarillo.

Canyon, Texas, we are reliably informed, has plans to send 70 high school band students to an international music festival in Vienna, Austria next summer, at an estimated cost of $50,000.

The Canyon Eagle Band, directed by J.W. King, jr., will be the only band from Texas at the festival. In fact, Canyon expects to represent the entire southwest since no bands will represent Kansas, New Mexico or Oklahoma. Only 30 bands from the entire United States will be in Vienna for the week-long festival in mid-July and another 30 will represent other nations around the world.

Band students labored during the summer to bring in that cold cash, because each one is responsible for earning at least $500 for the trip. Their work has included baby-sitting, trash-hauling, weed-pulling, cake-baking, house-cleaning — anything that would add to the bank account. Canyon band parents have undertaken the job of earning another $250 per student.

You can sell only so many pies or so many coffee mugs in a town the size of Canyon but these band members and parents apparently don't know this. They are reputed to be of the stuff that made West Texas pioneers. "We want these kids to make the trip," a business man said, "and somehow we'll do it."

The band has been a winner for the Panhandle city. It won sweepstakes honors for three years in University Interscholastic Competition, was selected as the AAA TMEA Honor Band in 1970 and was acclaimed the Honors Band at the Greater Southwest Music Festival in Amarillo last spring. The sturdy citizens of Canyon are not begging anyone for anything but they would accept any help anyone wants to give: new fund-raising ideas, books of stamps or other contributions, even money.

The address is "Vienna '72, care of Mrs. Gary T. Garner, Fund-raising Chairman, Box 784, Canyon, Texas."

We, too, have a feeling that "somehow they'll do it."

ALLEN BEGHTEL

Allen Beghtel Earns $316.00

Allen Beghtel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arden Beghtel, has earned $316 as his share for the 1972 Vienna, Austria band trip.

Allen is first chair french horn player for the Canyon High School band, and he is determined that the 70-member band will go on the three week trip in July.

He has earned his money by building fences, yard work, selling cosmetics, moving families and he built a corral last summer.

"That was the hardest job," Beghtel recalls the corral building.

The most fun job was the moving business, according to the french horn player.

Beghtel, who is an all-region band member and will tryout Jan. 22 for the All-State band, sold enough cosmetics to earn $70 for his own account. Each band member must make $475 toward the band trip to the international music festival.

"I think the trip will be great," he says enthusiastically. "It will be a good experience to meet all the people and quite an experience in music."

Retired Teacher Travels, Collects, Reviews Books

MRS. A.L. WALSH

Book reviewer, traveller, and collector of antiques, is Mrs. A. L. Walsh, president of the Sue Hite Study Club.

She is also a retired teacher who still substitutes a great deal. She taught in Canyon schools for 26 years, retiring in 1966, and, not ready to quit, spent another two years in the classroom at St. Joseph's School in Amarillo.

She has been a member of the Sue Hite Club since about 1927, she said, and has held all the club's offices and served on all its committees. The organization's main work is with the Girl Scouts, the Mental Health Association, and the Randall County Library, she said.

She has also been an active member of First Baptist Church "for a long, long time" and, during her teaching days, belonged to "all the professional organizations." She still answers roll call at meetings of Delta Kappa Gamma, the Retired Teachers Association, Zeta Tau Alpha, and the American Legion Auxiliary.

She frequently gives book reviews for Women's Missionary Society circles in her church and, for fun, plays bridge and travels.

She doesn't know how many times she has been to California, Canada, and Mexico, and has also visited Europe and Alaska. Last spring, she was one of a group of nine women who took a Caribbean cruise aboard a Norwegian freighter. The group went to relax and spent most of their time playing bridge. Their only trip ashore was a brief one at Kingston, Jamaica.

"It's restful to travel by water," and she finds it much better than flying. When she went to Alaska, she travelled the inland passage from Vancouver to Skagway by ship.

In Europe, she liked Scotland and Switzerland best. "They are two of the cleanest places anybody could ever imagine," she declared.

She visited Edinburgh Castle and had high tea in the mountains of Scotland and remembers both events with pleasure.

In Austria, she found "lovely music, and you don't have to pay a great deal to hear it."

France, she feels, hasn't changed since World War I in many places. It still appears to her to be much as her late husband described it after his military service then.

In Italy, she enjoyed the art on display in galleries and cathedrals and often spent whole days looking at pictures and sculpture. She was especially impressed with Michaelangelo's "Moses" in Rome.

Her interest in art has led her to take lessons herself, and she is learning to paint in oils.

Antique furniture fills her home at 2414 11th Ave., and there is also a great deal of cut glass to be seen. The glass collection was made by her husband before his death in 1959. He was owner of Brasher-Walsh Oil Co., and served as Canyon's mayor in the early 1950 s.

Mrs. Walsh shares her home with a niece, Miss Gail Ann Long of Fairbanks, Alaska, who is studying to be a primary teacher.

Her other companion is Beau Chien Walsh, a year-old white toy poodle given her by her son, Dr. A. L. Walsh Jr. of Levelland.

She has two grandchildren, Andrew Lee Walsh III, a senior at Tascosa High School in Amarillo, and Ann, a sophomore there.

Survivors in addition to the parents are the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Klein of Pampa, and the maternal grandfather, Chester Wiedeman of Sunman, Ind. and two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Frieda Rice of Great Bend, Kan., and Mrs. L.A. Klein of La Cross, Kan.

Funeral arrangements were by LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Spring Recitals Scheduled By WTSU Students

A season of spring musical recitals by West Texas State University senior students will begin Jan. 19 with a performance of flutist Martha Davis of Midland. The recital, which is free to the public, is scheduled at 4 p.m. in the WTSU Fine Arts Auditorium.

Miss Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Davis of 4005 Thomason in Midland, will perform Bach's "Sonata V," Vivaldi's "Concerto in C Major for Piccolo," Kennan's "Night Soliloquy," and Kuhlau's "Duo Concertante No. 2."

Assisting Miss Davis in the recital will be flutist Dr. Gary Garner, professor of music and director of Bands at WTSU, and his wife, pianist Mariellen Garner. Also, Mary Karen King, Canyon freshman, and Sandy McQueen, Memphis, Tex., sophomore.

The recital is in partial fulfillment for graduate requirements for the bachelor's degree in music education in flute.

Emil Olson, right, was sworn in as president of the Randall County Sheriff Posse by Chamber of Commerce president David West. Officers were installed and Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston deputized the male members of the organization.

Children's Art Classes Held

Children's art classes based on individual projects will be sponsored in Canyon by the Amarillo Art Association, according to teacher Pat McCracken.

The classes will be held on Saturday from 10 to 11:30 a.m. for seven weeks in the Town and Country Kindergarten at 1205 20th Street.

McCracken said an afternoon session would be held from 1 to 2:30 p.m. if registration permitted.

The classes will begin Saturday, Jan. 22. The cost of the seven-week course is $25 and all supplies are furnished, McCracken said.

"We are using an unstructured system with much more rapore between students and instructor than in the public schools," McCracken said.

"The purpose of the classes to give the child an opportunity to express himself with a minimum of direction from me and hopefully alot of motivation," he said.

McCracken is a 1971 graduate of West Texas State University and has been director of the children's programs for the association for a year.

McCracken said that the association is taking the classes out of the city of Amarillo so that the art center may perform a function for the entire area.

He said that he would use any medium of art that the students express an interest in.

Agriculture School Gets $5,000 Grant

Texas Cattle Feeders Association has made a grant in the amount of $5,000 to West Texas State University, School of Agriculture, to be used in animal disease reserach.

John W. McNeill, Acting Head of the Department of Animal Science at WTSU, accepted the grant for the University. NcNeill said, "A $4,182 Organized Research Grant from the University will be put with the Cattle Feeders contribution to go toward a study of respiratory diseases of stocker and feeder cattle."

Lloyd Bergsma, Executive Vice-President of the Association, said, "This research grant to WTSU is a part of the broad research program being developed by TCFA. Research is one of the major functions of the Association and problems with respiratory diseases are costly to the industry". Bergama said, "The Association is pleased to be working with WTSU in efforts to find solutions to this problem."

During the fall of 1971 the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo gave the University $10,000 to inaugurate the disease reserach program. The research will be conducted by McNeill in conjunction with Dr. John Coleman, Research Veterinarian, Texas A&M University, who is stationed at the South Western Great Plains Research Center at Bushland.

"A difficult problem confronting the cattle feeding industry is developing an economic and effective regime for preventing and treating diseased of livestock shipped to commercial feedyards in the Texas Panhandle," McNeill said. He added that changes in environment, shipping stress, dehydration and ration changes are generally conducive to the incidence of respiratory diseases.

McNeill continued, "No price tag can be put on the losses from disease but a majority of the cattle are affected to some degree. Loss cannot be measured only by animal mortality because sub-clinically sick animals have reduced feedyard performance which is of major economic importance to the cattle feeders."

Miss Beverly Burnett of Brownfield was assisted by Highway Patrolmen and passers-by Thursday afternoon following a one-car accident six miles south of Canyon on U. S. 87. Miss Burnett sustained minor injuries.

Chris Tully Chemistry Scholarship Recipient

Christopher R. Tully, West Texas State University senior from Amarillo, has been named the recipient of a $100 chemistry scholarship.

Tully, son of Dr. and Mrs. Phil C. Tully of Canyon, was one of four students from WTSU and three other area colleges to receive the scholarships, which were awarded by the Panhandle-Plains section of the American Chemical Society.

A member of Alpha Chi honorary fraternity, Tully worked last spring in computer programming under a scholarship awarded by the Robert A. Walsh Foundation of Houston.

Also working under a Walsh scholarship since last June, he has been involved in extensive organic chemistry research under the guidance of James D. Woodyard, assistant professor of chemistry at WTSU.

Mobile Home Burns Down

An estimated $2,000 damage was done to a mobile home in the early Saturday morning when a fire engulfed the structure totalling destroying it.

The 1958 Villa home was owned by Pressley Kennamer and rented to three West Texas State University students. Kennamer said the origin of the fire was unknown, and he estimated the cost of the trailer at $2,000.

Canyon volunteer firemen were called to Schaeffer Trailer Park at 1 a.m., but fire chief Jack Jennings said the trailer was totally involved with fire when the units arrived.

Firemen had answered an earlier fire Friday evening north of Canyon on Farm to Market road 2219. A small well house fire was reported at 9:45 p.m. Friday and only one truck was sent to the Alvin Oglesby farm. Damage was minor according to firemen.

Museum Tours Conducted For Local Students

Students of Canyon and Amarillo are being introduced to the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum through a current project of the museum educational director, Kim Taylor.

Taylor, who was recently named full-time educational director, began work at the museum in September.

Taylor is conducting tours of the museum for school classes and scout groups and is now averaging almost a tour a day.

Taylor has set up a projection room just off the museum library. "When we have groups interested in a particular subject, I can set up exhibits, show films, give lectures or invite an expert in to discuss the subject," Taylor said.

Taylor said he was also discussing the possibility of a traveling exhibit for local history classes "to make Texas history come alive."

Patti Short, a senior speech major, and Jenie Knighton, a senior music major, has been assisting Taylor with the tours of the museum.

Park Offers $5 Sticker

A special $5 sticker is available at Palo Duro Canyon State Park for vehicles that will permit cars into the park as often during the year as desired.

This sticker can be purchased at the park and is good for one year, Sept. 1 through Aug. 31.

According to park officials, the fee allows a car to enter the park as many times during the year as the driver desires rather than having to pay each trip. Campers must still pay a $1 per night camping fee which covers electrical and disposal connections within the park.

A $12 sticker may also be purchased for use in all state parks.

Palo Duro Park has 180 tent-type camping spots which have no electrical outlets; 20 camping spots with electricity, and 20 more with both disposal and electricity. All camping areas have water and hot showers along with rest room facilities. The Sad Monkey runs daily during the summer and on most weekends during the winters.

The Goodnight Trading Post is also located in the park along with the Pioneer Amphitheatre where the summer musical drama "TEXAS" is portrayed during the summer months.

The spring season of West Texas State University Special Programs will begin Jan. 31 with a concert by the internationally - acclaimed chamber music group, The Warsaw Quintet.

The Quintet, which has received enthusiastic press notices for their concerts in Europe, Asia and the Americas, will perform at 8 p.m., in the WTSU Fine Arts Theatre.

Tickets for the performance will be available without charge beginning Monday for WTSU students, faculty and staff. Ticket sales for the general public will open Jan. 24, with tickets priced at $2 for adults and $1 for students. Tickets will be sold at the WTSU Activities Center office.

The program for the WTSU performance will include quintets by Brahams, Dvorak and Shastakovich.

The group gave its first public performance in 1963 in London. Though one of the newer chamber music groups, the Quintet has achieved a high degree of prominence, and is in demand by audiences all over Europe as well as in the U. S. A., Canada, Japan, Mexico and India. The Quintet also boasts a number of successful recordings.

Members of the ensemble are Igor Iwanow, first violin; Jan Tawroszewicz, second violin; Stefan Kamasa, viola; Andrzej Orkisz, cello; and Wladyslaw Szpilman, piano.

The Quintet appearance is the first of eight special programs to be presented by the WTSU Special Programs Committee and the Student Activities Council.

Other programs scheduled include a lecture on Russian and Chinese affairs by International Affairs expert Donald Grant (Feb. 28); a concert of baroque music by the highly-acclaimed Philidor Trio (March 20); a lecture on ecology by ABC News Science Editor Jules Bergman (April 10); and a lecture on the effects of technology on society by TV actor and mass communications authority Robert Vaughn (April 24).

Survivors include his wife Mary Jane of the home in Happy; one son, Glenn Miller of Houston; two daughters, Mrs. Keene McDonald of Happy and Mrs. Joey Barrett of Las Vegas, Nev.; seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Miss Burnett Is Injured

Beverly Burnett of Brownfield sustained minor injuries Thursday afternoon when her car overturned on U.S. 87 about six miles south of Canyon.

Miss Burnett was taken to Neblett Hospital and was released Friday morning.

Patrolman Ron Boyter said that Miss Burnett started to pass a truck on a curve and ran off the road and overturned. She was in the north bound lane.

The Volkswagon she was driving was totally damaged, Boyter said.

Services Pending For Gaut Family

The grandson of a former Canyon News editor, his wife and one daughter were killed in an airplane crash early Friday morning in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Gaut, and their 10-year-old daughter Meg, were killed instantly when their straight tail Bonanza aircraft crashed around 7:15 a.m.

The accident occurred just minutes after the craft took off from Trade Winds Airport, according to Wes Clark, sales representative at the airport.

Police officers at the scene said the landing gear was not down and airport officials believed the accident was weather-related.

"It had been clear earlier in the morning, but when they took off it had become overcase at 300-400 feet with fog and some snow," Clark explained Friday after the accident.

He noted the plane was leased and would normally seat four persons.

Mr. Gaut, a well-known real estate man in Amarillo, was the grandson of James Rufus Gaut, who was the first "fairly long-lasting" editor in Canyon. The elder Mr. Gaut moved in the early 1900's to Amarillo and began a real estate business which his son and grandsons are still operating. The daughter was enrolled in school in Waco.

Mr. Gaust had been flying for around a year, according to Clark, and he was believed to be flying to Waco with a stop inbetween. Clark believed the family was to return to Amarillo on Sunday.

Mrs. Gaut, a graduate of West Texas State University had taught at WT and was completing work on her doctorate degree at Baylor University in Waco.

He was ordained a Baptist minister in 1950 and served in that capacity for several years.

He graduated from Amarillo High School, Amarillo College, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and Baylor University, and had been active in mission work. He was president of the Baylor Ministerial Alliance in Waco, and had served with the U.S. Navy during World War II.

At the time of his death he was serving a three-year term as district governor of the Amarillo Chapter of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers.

Mr. Gaut was past president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and the Amarillo Board of Realtors.

Mrs. Gaut was a niece of Mrs. Hazel Williams of Canyon and a cousin of Roger Wineinger, also of Canyon.

Other survivors included two other daughters, Ann, a student at Tascosa High School, and Mrs. Gayle Parrish of Houston.

Mrs. Janie Gaut is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Guthridge of Amarillo, and one sister Mrs. Jack Rose of Memphis.

Surviving Mr. Gaut are two brothers Rufus and Kenneth, both of Amarillo; three sisters, Mrs. Kay Sullivan of Odessa, Mrs. Elayne Wadsworth of Palm Springs, Calif., and Mrs. Shirley Pickett of Amarillo; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Gaut also of Amarillo.

Funeral arrangements for the Gauts are pending at Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Home in Amarillo.
